

Kyle Morris

113.5

Preamble

Where as now our country is in a severely devastating economic state, something needs to be done to conserve money. The United States is currently wasting money on a war in Iraq that is resembling much to the Vietnam War in our past. At the moment, the war in Iraq has been said to spend over 1.05 trillion dollars. In most minds this is taking away from our country and using recourses that are wasteful.

Body

For the establishment of the Appropriations Committee we would like to promote a bill for ending the war in Iraq. Due to the rapid spending of money on this war that is only seeming to further hurt our countries economy. It is much comparable to the previous actions and events that took place in Vietnam. After Vietnam our countries economy struggled with money and supplies. Both noticeable aspects of each war is that overtime the troop buildup has grown larger and larger. There is not much notable progress in each case as well.

A proposal to slowly move troops out of Iraq by the end of 2010 would strongly help our country and improve our economy when the prices of oil would go down and more. natural recourses would be available. Money that is now available will be used to form a new government in Iraq and our problems will be solved. There will be less casualties to our own citizens where we have already taken out the largest problem in Iraq. Saddam Hussein.

Enactment Clause

If passes, this bill will go into enactment in fact of immediately only for the reason that it will take an ample amount of time to extract all of the troops from Iraq and successfully set up a new type of government in Iraq.

Closing

Hasn't our lesson been learned from "Vietnamization?". It is impossible to succeed in a war like this if the nation is not behind, where as the Iraq war still lacks support of close to half of the country as well. Despite all the technology and equipment that we have, our country will still not be able to win over the minds and ways of a completely different culture. Overall, the Iraq war is a pointless war to be fought and in the eyes of the Appropriations Committee sees this as detrimental to our nations economy.